JOHN D. HUMPHREYS & SON. General Managers. Hongkong, 24th March, 1812. AN APOLOGY.

THE PROSECUTION OF THE OPIUM FARMER. T BEG to express through your celumns my deep regret that I should in a hasty mement, in consequence of my not being able to read or understand Chinese accounts, have commenced a prosecution against Mr. Koh Chang Scan, the Chief Manager of the late Opium Farm, with reference to the funds of the Cheang Tek Kong See. A complete investigation into the matter and a careful examination of the books and accounts have thoroughly convinced me , that my suspicious were whelly groundless, and that there has been nothing whatever in Mr. Koh Cheng Sean's management of the business of the Opium Farm that is in any way reprehensible; and further, that he has all along been doing his best, honestly A and faithfully, for the benefit of the Cheang Tek Kong See. I should be obliged if you would insert this letter in your correspondence column once, and afterwards as an advertisement for the period of one month, as I am anxious to undo as far as possible any injury I may have, through my hasty and unjustifiable action, inflicted upon Mr. Koh Chang Sean. Yours truly. OH TEK LEONG.

MINENT MEN AS DISPENSERS OF PATRONAGE.

Gifts of give as everybody knows, are like alike to med with exceptions to the general rule. Such an exception recently occurred. The Duke of Dovonshire granted the prayer of the inhabitauts of a certain parish who petitioned him on behalf of a curate, and gave him the living rendered vacant by the death of his former

The late Earl of Shoffleld also took pains in the matter of Church preferment. A vicarage in his lordship's patronage once fell vacant, and immediately scores of applications were made for it. No decision was arrived at, but two or three months afterwards a strang lady and gentleman were observed among the congregation at both services at a church in a neighbouring county. In the evening they obtained an interview with the curate, and to his temporary confusion and astonishment, revealed themselves as my lord and lady. They told him they had been making a tour in order to judge of the fitness of a selected number of applicants, and they had decided to present the living to him.

Lord Melbourne hated patronage, but he had planty, particularly in 1837, when it "rained garters and crosiers." There wis an epidemic. he said, among deans and judges; "and as for the bishops, be positively believed they died to ver him." However, he was singularly conscientions, and seems to have made ecclusiastical appointments without regard to politics. One ingenuous gentleman promised to vote for bourne's judgment soon told him that there were many reasons why the coveted mitre should not go in that direction, and he said as much with characteristic candour "I must tell him this as well as Troun," he wrote to Lord Laus-

Cambridge, and it was only last week that Raikes made a violent personal attack upon your self." "Do you know." Mr Gladstone raplied, "that you have just supplied me with a strong argument in Er. Henson's favour, for if he had been a worldly man or solf-socker, he would never have done anything so improdent?"

Of Mr. Gladstone's sympathy with hoggars for situations an amusing story is told. A clork out of place once wrote saying that his heart had been knocked clean out of him by a little incident. The writer had replied to an undertaker's advertisement, and found himself one of a similar string of applicants before the door of the burying man. Two youngstors passing by

IMPERIAL QUARTO. INGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUSTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong, For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both SHOP and FRONT, PART of FIRST the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography. displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously sitained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000

Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the other elementary works as yet published, the Monthly Periodical, the Tropical Agriculturist 82.— Do.
